Downtown Los Angeles – the Foundation for Art Resources (F.A.R.) is presenting FAR at Fourth and Spring on Thursday, December 8, 2005 at 408 So. Spring Street in Downtown Los Angeles. The event includes a full program of video and performance artists, live music and DJs as well as raffle giveaways and a cash bar. Scheduled to coincide with the monthly Downtown Art Walk, FAR at Fourth and Spring is an event designed to enrich and entertain its audience with art and art happenings. There will be a suggested $10.00 admission fee as well as a raffle intended to raise money to support our upcoming 2006 programming season. The majority of F.A.R.'s annual programming is entirely free and open to the public.

Taking place in the ground floor of 1908 Continental Building In the heart of downtown's historic core, FAR at Fourth and Spring will transform this location into a multimedia art happening with music from Cinders, Katzenjammer, Layer and DJ Jozef. Katzenjammer is Tamara Cimmerian, calling herself "Katzenjammer" (a state of utter bewilderment) this one-woman band writes all of her own music and lyrics, plays piano and keyboards and programs. Her style is versatile and unique and her voice is hauntingly beautiful; Cinders consists of A., Neves, and Charlesi, former Kraftwerk button pushers now rock and roll circus; Layer is musical & visual exploration Guitarist/keyboardist/composer Eric Layer, bassist Richard Chui, and drummer Jon Wicks (Money Mark), join forces to create mind-bending space rock with accompanying live visuals created & mixed by local VJ Foc:Eye; DJ Jozef spins a unique mix of early funky soul & modern dance punk. Bring your dancing shoes. Also featured will be a live performance by artist Janice Gomez, VJing from the Image Cartel, live painting by Emmeric Konrad, and video and animation by the students of the armory center for the arts. A cash bar will be provided by Pete's Café and raffle giveaways from VAMP shoes, and Kendall's Grill.

The Foundation for Art Resources (F.A.R.) is an all-volunteer, artist-run, nonprofit organization providing programs and opportunities designed to build a vital interaction among the creative communities of Los Angeles. F.A.R., a 501(c)(3) organization, was founded in 1977 to facilitate the production and presentation of work by artists who challenge and expand the boundaries of established notions of art and art-making within the Los Angeles region. Visit www.farsited.org for more information.

For this event, we promise our audience a unique evening of art, performance, and music to celebrate the kick-off of F.A.R.'s nearly entirely new Board of Directors, marking a new age in the extensive history of our organization.
